Each business day, rates are uploaded to the pricing engine within TheSpot, followed by distribution of updated rate sheets via e-mail between 8:30 and 9:00 AM PST. The rate sheets will have key pricing elements (loan amount, credit score, and LTV) identified for each product set and will represent pricing for the scenario identified.

Both theSpot and Rate Sheets will be for indicative purposes only and are subject to change

Adjustments to Posted Prices/Intra-Day Rate Change Period

theLender reserves the right to adjust prices at any time. During a rate or price change, ability to price and lock loans will be suspended.

Loans will be locked at the pricing in effect at time of the lock request.

Lock Policies

Lock Requests

Brokers submit lock requests electronically through TheSpot. Once applicable information is submitted, TheSpot generates a message that is sent to the Lock Desk to finalize the lock parameters.

If the Broker is unable to lock the loan in TheSpot due to technical reasons, please contact the lock desk for assistance at lockdesk@thelender.com

Loan Program and Parameter Changes (i.e. LTV, credit score, property address, and debt ratio, etc.) Repricing for loan changes on existing locked loans are investor specific. If investor changes, pricing will be based off worse case pricing.

Loan Amount Changes

- Changes to the loan amount will impact loan re-pricing as follows:
 - Loan Amount Increase/Decrease by $\leq 10\%$ or \$20,000: Re-priced to loan's current committed rate sheet
 - Loan Amount Increase/Decrease by $> 10\%$ or $20,000: Worse case pricing
- If a Lender Fee Buyout is included in the pricing of the loan, any loan amount change will require an update to pricing.

Borrower or Property Changes

- The commitment on a loan is tied to the primary borrower and the property. If either of these change once the loan is locked, the loan will be re-priced using the worse case pricing calculation. Typographical errors may be addressed on an exception basis.

Other Loan Parameter Changes

- Loan parameters may be changed at any time. Changing Loan parameters could subject the loan to be re-priced to Loan's current committed rate sheet. Some changes could Cause the loan to be re-priced at worse case pricing.

Lock Extension Policy

- Extensions may be requested after the loan is locked and prior to the expiration of the lock. If additional time is needed, the extension request must be requested prior to the expiration date of the lock and the loan will be repriced accordingly.
- All extension requests are processed by emailing lockdesk@thelender.com
 - Requests must be sent by 4:00 PM PST
 - All programs may be extended a maximum of two times. Refer to the rate sheets for extension costs.

Relock Policy

- Relocks are subject to worse case pricing and are conducted on all programs after the lock expires, the loan is canceled, or on program changes.

- Loans will be Relocked for 15 days and worse case pricing will apply with a relock fee of 25 bps on cancelled and expired locks and will include previous extension costs.
- Loans that have been expired or canceled for > 45 days from lock expiration date will be repriced using current market pricing.

- Loans may be relocked for a term less than or equal to the original lock term.
- A loan may be relocked only once.

Duplicate Locks

If duplicate loan submissions exist and have both been locked, only the first locked price and lock expiration will be honored. The duplicate loan will be rejected.

The Broker may cancel a locked loan by contacting the Account Executive, Account Manager or the Lock Desk.

Locking a Previously Canceled Loan/Lock

Broker Compensation Overview

Broker compensation refers to the total amount of compensation that a mortgage broker, its employees or other loan originators receive from a loan transaction, regardless of the terminology used for the fees charged.

Under Regulation Z, a mortgage broker, its employees or other loan originators may only receive compensation on any transaction from a single source, specifically, either by Borrower Paid Compensation (BPC) or Lender Paid Compensation (LPC). The Broker Compensation Plan will apply across all of the Broker's branches.

Hometown Equity Mortgage, LLC will provide its business partners with two compensation options, lender-paid and borrower-paid compensation. The compensation option must be selected before the loan application is submitted. However, the mortgage broker will be allowed to change from lender paid compensation model to borrower paid during the transaction (borrower paid- to lender-paid compensation is not allowed).

A change from lender paid- to borrower paid is not a valid change under RESPA or TILA and no fees may be increased as a result of this request for change.

The broker negotiates its compensation on a borrower-paid, but may not exceed their lender-paid compensation. Once the compensation is set it may not be renegotiated.

Please refer to the theLender Broker Compensation Policy for complete details.

Worse Case Pricing

Worse case pricing is calculated by comparing the original lock rate/price to the current market rate/price including rate and price adjustments to the lower (worst) price of the two calculations.
